FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1863.

Lieut. Gov. Alford has called a special election for February 21 to elect a successor to ex-State Senator Lindsay.

A bill has passed the Minnesota House of Representatives making smoking of cigarettes a misdemeanor or punishable by a fine of $25 to $50, or by imprisonment for thirty days.

Justice takes some queer turns. In the Marion Circuit Court on the same day one man was sentenced to six years in the penitentiary for burglary, while another got off with only two years for killing his father.—C. J.

Instead of using a new Bible, according to the general custom, Mr. Cleveland was sworn in at his inauguration in 1855 with his mother's Bible, a small morocco copy, and it is understood he will use the same one in the approaching ceremony.

A Poll of Congress regarding Hawaii shows that 20 Senators favor annexation, 35 a protectorate and 25 are non-committal. In the House 83 Representatives favor annexation, 46 oppose it and 77 are non-committal.

The majority of the Democratic members of the Indiana House are opposed to the Governor's patronage bill passed by the Senate and have served notice on the Democratic members of that body that they will not participate in a joint caucus or apportionment bills until the Senate shows a disposition to respect their wishes.—C. J.

Hugh Mulholland, last April sentenced to serve one year in the Penitentiary, has received a full pardon from the President of the United States. Mulholland was Postmaster at Paducah, but was removed from office and sentenced to the Penitentiary for alleged robbery of the mails intrusted to his care.

The annual Pension bill, carrying an appropriation of $160,000,000, the heaviest ever before Congress, came up in the House. Mr. Mutchler, in supporting the proposed changes in the system, said that reform in the granting of pensions must begin somewhere, and the committee had concluded that the time had come when the reform should be inaugurated.

All prospect of silver legislation at this session of Congress vanished yesterday, when the House, by a majority of nine, refused to take up the bill repealing the Sherman act, by ordering the previous question. The Democratic and Republican members divided pretty evenly on the vote, but the ten Populists all voted with the silver men. The defeat is attributed, however, to the action of Republicans who, while favoring repeal, hope to embarrass the Democratic Administration.

President W. H. Dulaney, of the Board of the World's Fair Managers, has issued an address to the people of Kentucky stating that the board proposes to have a charitable display, in spite of the loss of valuable time caused by Auditor-Norman's pig-headedness. An appeal is made to all Kentuckians who have objects worth exhibiting to open correspondence with the Commissioners at once. Mr. Dulaney says most of the work is well under way, and Kentuckians will have no reason to be ashamed of their part in the World's Fair.

Convictions for selling a vote are as rare in Kentucky as indictments for participating in the work of a mob. Wolfe county, whose enviable reputation for enforcing the laws was frequently mentioned in the Courier-Journal, has sentenced a vote-seller to disfandom for life. The public contempt and condemnation expressed in the verdict will be even more effective than the sentence itself in discouraging traffic in the suffrage, provided the sentence represents substantial public sentiment and is not a mere freakish spasm of righteousness. Our laws against bribery in elections are the most part dead letters; the only punishment that is paid is the fine.

Underpaid Cabinet Officers.

In truth the over-sentiment of Cabinet offices is due to our "scale," even with our system. A salary of $8000 for an office which requires that the incumbents shall have a good house and still keep it open is pitifully small. The President is decently paid with $20,000 an offendress, and the best we can do for the purpose to which he appeals is to give him his pay in the executive departments.

Mr. Cleveland Surprised.
(St. Louis Republic Washington Letter.) Reliable information is to the effect that Mr. Cleveland is very much surprised at the show of hostility to the appointment of Judge (Gresham) on the part of some of the Democratic members of Congress. He is said to have expressed himself disengaged that his services as a Secretary of State should give rise to any bitterness in the party ranks.

We are gratified to learn that the bill to prohibit the sale of ergotin in Kentucky died from lack of a constitutional majority.

State of Spencer for any kind of ergotin. We wish you would print the bill in its original form which it is to be had in the office of W. T. Davis, Esq., Louisville, and I am sure it will be.

Bust The Trusts.

Mrs. Josephine Henry's aspiration of a woman supplanting one of the men on the Kentucky coat of arms seems possible of accomplishment without any change in the existing law on this important subject. Assistant Secretary of State Ed. Leigh has unearthed this old act of December 20, 1792, "to provide a seal for this Commonwealth." The bill enacted by the General Assembly that the Governor became empowered and is hereby required to provide, as the public charge a seal for this Commonwealth, and procure the same to be engraved with the following device, viz: Two friendly embracing, with the name of the State over their heads, and round about them the following motto: "United we stand, divided we fall."

Nothing in that about man or woman; only "friends." Our practice in construing the new Constitution would easily enable us to give to the word "embracing" a loose construction, so as to limit it to a respectful and deferential handshake, as it would hardly do to have the representatives of either competition among themselves or with the whole world, and leave them free to choose.—Portsmouth Times.

Regulating Party Nominations.

The plan which Gov. Werts, of New Jersey, is said to be devising for the application of the reformed method of balloting for the nomination of candidates is calculated to excite a great deal of interest outside of that State. Its purpose is to give the mass of the voters in each party the control of nominations instead of leaving it to the "machines" organized by active and self-seeking politicians. The political machine is the inevitable result of leaving the work of nominating candidates to the voluntary and unregulated efforts of the voters. The plain upon which Gov. Werts is working contemplates, if we understand it aright, a primary election regulated by law, at which each voter may express his choice for candidate to be put in nomination by his party, with the same freedom and security with which he expresses his choice between candidates for office at the regular election.—New York Times.

Oh, For Some Duplicates.

The Murray Ledger has found an old Kentucky magistrate who always made it a principle, regardless of the wealth, political influence, religion or social standing of any defendant brought before him, to fix the punishment at the highest notch allowed by law if the evidence showed the accused to be guilty. This exceptionally praiseworthy justice was an old man whom people thought so old as to be foolish, but in his childish simplicity was a true fashion of serving the law to become popular in that State; that though the old man has gone to his reward, the fashion still obtains. There are very few of that sort now.—C. J.

We're the Haven of the Oppressed.

Should we annex the Sandwich group where could we end? Cuba might ask to be annexed. Ireland might ask to share its fortune with the great Republic, and even Great Britain itself might in time desire a similar result. This is startling. We might not object. But just now we do not want the earth, and how to task well?

John D. Rockefeller, the many-time millionaire, is a deacon in the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, of New York, and passes the contribution box every Sunday.

Secretary of War Elkins inclines to the abolition of both the sword and the saber, on the ground that they are no longer of the slightest practical use in actual warfare.

Chasey M. DePew says that he is without doubt the most enthusiastic member of the Masonic craft in New York city. "I think I would give up the pleasure of making an after-dinner speech," said he the other day, "to see the Third Degree worked."

It was intended that the ceremony should take place at 12 o'clock, but owing to the delay of the train it was about half an hour later. When all was in readiness the guests, about twenty-five in number, assembled in the parlor. At the sound of a march from the organ the contracting parties marched slowly into the room, preceded by Miss Mary McClure and M. F. Gandy, followed by Rev. John S. Cox. The party halted at the opposite side of the room and in a graceful and impressive manner the minister soon made the couple husband and wife. After receiving hearty congratulations from all, the dining room, where a sumptuous repast, served in three courses, was spread before the guests. As a rule a wedding dinner is a toothsome affair and gets justice at the hands of the guests, and this occasion was no exception to the rule in either respect. By the time all had been served at dinner it was time for the trains, and the party made their way to the railroad with the bride and groom, who had arranged for a trip down the river.
